Pamela Salapich Nelson

New attorney in Malone's law office - Pamela Nelson

Special to the Chronicle

TRINIDAD — Trinidad attorney Dennis Michael Malone is proud to announce the addition of attorney Pamela Salapich Nelson to his law office.

Nelson is the daughter of Gary and Karen Salapich and the granddaughter of Edith and the late John Salapich of Gulnare. She graduated valedictorian from Aguilar High in 2000. Nelson attended Western State College, where she was a member of the track and field team and was listed on the dean's list for five years. She graduated cum laude with a bachelor's degree in Psychology and in Political Science in 2005. Nelson left Western State holding the track and field hammer throw record.

Nelson attended the University of Wyoming College of Law, where she studied for three years. She was a student attorney at the Domestic Violence Legal Clinic for the 2007-08 school year. In May 2008, Nelson received her juris doctorate from the University of Wyoming College of Law. In September 2008, the Supreme Court of Wyoming awarded Nelson the 2008 Pro Bono Award for her work with underprivileged clients in the Domestic Violence Clinic. Nelson recently passed the Colorado Bar and took her oath as an attorney on Oct. 27.

"I am very excited to be returning home to practice law in the communities that I grew up in and love. The work in the Malone law office is diverse and challenging," said Nelson.

"We are fortunate that Pam wanted to return to her roots. She will be very busy as our practice has grown greatly in the past few years. She is intelligent, has high energy and loves her work. I predict a bright future for Pam and look forward to being her mentor," said Malone.

Nelson began practicing law as an attorney in the Malone offices on Oct. 28.
